 Disposable panty napkin for babies - has integral waistband connected by tear line to sides of central catch panel
 C86-021047

The napkin comprises an absorbent pad (1) sandwiched between a waterproof, outer sheet (2) and a permeable textile inner sheet (9). Prestretched elastic (7) is fixed to the longitudinal edges of the central panel intended to pass between the wearer's legs.

The waterproof sheet is extended beyond both side edges of the central panel to provide two waist-band strips (11), pre-elasticated (8) and partly detachable at rear-lines (10). The front end of the central panel has slots (13) through which waist-band strips are passed.

USE

Panty napkin for babies.

ADVANTAGE

Integral waist-band strips offer improved resistance to leaks. (14pp448PADwgNo.1/4).
